

FLEET FIND MACKEREL.

Dozen Sail Working Off South Shoal Lightship.

Portland Vessel Saw Them Take Fine Schools.

Capt. Robinson of the sch. Laughing Water which arrived at Portland Wednesday reports a fleet of a dozen sail of seiners taking mackerel off the South Shoal lightship. Capt. Robinson says the vessels were taking fine schools of fish as fast as they could be drawn in.

Sch. J. W. Bradley, Capt. William Foley, stocked $1450 on her mackerel fare landed at Boston yesterday. Capt. Foley has stocked nearly $6000 thus far this season and is right in the game against the flyers, although he has the oldest vessel in the fleet.

New Cockle Field.

Sch. Everett Pierce, one of the Rips fleet, baited on the American side of the St. Croix, river, finding cockles in abundance and securing 120 buckets at one tide. The people did not want him to take them at first, but he stated his case, telling of the scarcity of bait and then they turned round and helped him, but said they would not favor other vessels which might come.

Good Stocks.

Sch. Harry A. Nickerson, Capt. Charles Forbes, stocked $7759.48 on her recent bank cod trip.

Sch. Lawrence A. Munroe, Capt. Robert Wilson, stocked $7263 on her recent salt bank trip, the crew sharing $256.

THREE OLD= TIME CRAFTS.

Made Fine Mackerel Hauls in Boston Bay.

GOT GOOD PRICE TODAY.

Fish Are Showing Again Not Far from Home.

Mackerel have been schooling again in Boston Bay since Sunday and three fine hauls were made yesterday afternoon off Marshfield.

At Boston today from this vicinity are sch. J. W. Bradley, of Beverly, Capt. William Foley, with 250 barrels of fresh mackerel, sch. Amos Cutter, Capt. Joseph J. Lyle, with 200 barrels and sch. Georgie Willard, Capt. G. Melvin McClain, with fare reported from 4000 fish to 150 barrels.

It is a noticeable fact that these three fortunate crafts are among the oldest of the whole seining fleet, and all three have done well thus far this season.

The fish are bringing a good price today, 11 cents each, which means a good stock for each craft.

Mackerel are scarce and swordfish quite plenty off Block Island.

Fifty barrels of fresh mackerel were landed at Portland today.

HEADED FOR CAPE ANN.

Two 50-Foot Whales Left Hampton Beach Yesterday.

A despatch from Hampton Beach, N. H., yesterday says that two spearback whales, 50 feet long, were sighted about a quarter of a mile off here today. They spouted streams about 20 feet high, and were watched by crowds of spectators from the shore. The whales left the harbor after about two hours, and when last seen were heading toward Cape Ann.

LUCKY ANGIELENA.

Has One Hundred Barrels Fresh Mackerel at Newport.

Fish Was Taken Ten Miles from No Man's Land.

A special to the TIMES from Newport this noon reports the arrival of sch. Angielena, Capt. Samuel Joseph, with 100 barrels of fresh mackerel taken 10 miles south of No Man's Land.

Bluefish Record Broken.

Four Nantucket fishermen, Asa F. Meiggs, John P. Taber, Manuel Sylvia and Clinton Orpin, yesterday broke all previous records for bluefishing on that island. In four hours they landed 412 fish off the south side of the island. The fish weighed 3914 pounds, an average of 9 1-2 pounds each. Fishing steamer Petrel also brought in 329 bluefish, the largest weighing 16 3-4 pounds and the smallest 7 1-2.
